

SAT14-GT1

Product Description

The versatile GT1 tracks assets in locations too challenging for other GPS devices. The GT1's unique rugged metal bezel and hermetically-sealed construction provides durable protection from extreme temperatures, forces and chemicals. The GT1 is not only the world's most rugged device, but also its safest, as it has achieved the highest IECEx/ATEX Zone 0 rating. Satellite-based GPS equipment tracking has been around for years, but for many equipment types, previous hardware options were too big or expensive. With its compact size and tough build, the GT1 is ideal for all types of field equipment and shipping containers. The device, paired with leading software, helps minimize lost revenue, recover lost and misplaced equipment, reduce underutilized equipment, verify billing, and efficiently retrieve and manage inventory.
